MILLWOOD.

Dan Mitchell was in Cincinnati this week.

Charles Clarke is painting S. G. Hord's dwelling.

Services in the Christian Church Sunday next.

Charles Biggars of Maysville was here Wednesday.

Roe Calvert is a visiting James E. Cahill near Lewisburg.

T. F. Kiff, one of Helena's windy merchants, was here Wednesday afternoon, and left his subscription for THE LEDGER.

Mrs. A. D. Reid will give an elocutionary recital in the Millcreek Christian Church Saturday night, May 7th, at 7:30 o'clock. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

Mrs. John Wood, Mrs. Robert Wood, Mrs. Robert Cook and Mrs. Charles Cook of Helena were the guests of Mrs. William Montgomery Wednesday.

MAYSICK.

Professor Chandler closes his school this week. What will become of the boys? Boys, marble not.

Captain Joe Brown has an artistic corps of artists at work on the outside of his new stable. Nothing like enterprise, Joe.

What is the matter with Hon. A. P. Gooding filling out the unexpired term of Senator Poyntz? He could not get as much salt in his speeches, perhaps, as Poyntz, but could make the "Points," all the same.

G. W. Gooding of Cynthia is at home with his father, Hon. A. P. Gooding, suffering with an abscess on the hand, caused by a bruise. He is improving, but thinks his hand will be stiff. His many friends will be sorry to hear of his affliction.

Charles Dudley, the General Agent of the McCormick Machine Co., is here flying around in the interest of the farmers, to see that they get the right machine. He persuaded one of our farmers yesterday that the McCormick was right.

J. Dallas Simmons, Pastor of the Baptist Church of this place, left yesterday for his new field of labor, Grafton, W. Va. It may be said truthfully that this is to be regretted by his entire congregation and the community. Our loss is Grafton's gain.

Charles Rosenau and James T. Kackley were here to-day on business. They put up at the St. Charles Hotel and fed their horses Cycle oats and Toll corn. Jim says, "Charles, my top leaks." The response was, "Mine does too." We were all of the same opinion, for it was raining straight down. Bad time to be out on wheels, boys.

SPRINGDALE.

The address of N. B. Rogers is Plumville, Mason county, Ky.

Miss Anna Cruey has gone to Flemingsburg to engage in dressmaking.

It is rumored that we are to have a new warehouse and barn in the near future.

Charles Moore, whose house burned some weeks ago, is out soliciting contributions to replace his loss.

Mrs. Ella Bramble, who died at the Cincinnati Hospital a few days ago, was interred at Bethany yesterday.

"Bob" Hook has purchased property in our town and is now a resident, ready for any good job that turns up.

Comrade Ruggles is again at the front. This time the catch of fish was over one hundred pounds, the largest weighing seventy pounds.

We have been positively assured that we shall have a new $500 schoolhouse right away. That "Railroad tax," etc., will be forthcoming.

The turnpike election is set for the last

Saturday in April at Springdale, hours not stated. There ought to be an overflowing treasury, as there has been very little if any work done this year, notwithstanding the fact that the road is in wretched condition. We'll see what we will see.

Real Estate Transfers.

James P. Mannen by Allan D. Cole, Master Commissioner, to W. T. Cole, fifteen acres of land on Lee's Creek; consideration, $298 50.

Margaret Franklin and others to Joseph H. Dodson and Joseph F. Frazee, lot on West side of Wall street, between Second and Front; consideration, $300.

A Horse Squabble Settled.

The noted case of Abraham Berwanger against Matthew Hill, at Cincinnati, says the Kentucky Stock Farm, has been decided in favor of the defendant. It seems that Hill owned a mare by the name of Lady Kahn, who was the mother of several colts, one a three-year-old by the name of Dr. Haile, at present in Indiana. In September of last year this colt made a mile in the remarkable time of 2:19, which rendered the mother a very valuable producer. After Berwanger read the account in the papers he hurried out to Oakley, the full-mile track, where Hill lived, hoping to buy the mare before Hill had seen the papers. During the negotiations for the trade, Hill asked Berwanger if he had heard anything about what the mare's colts were doing. Berwanger replied he had not, and it was not the colts he wanted; it was the mare he was after. The deal was made, and Hill sold the mare for $125. Afterwards Hill learned the record of the colt, and immediately consulted his lawyers, who said to him: "If he asked Berwanger during the trade if he (Berwanger) had heard anything about the colt, and Berwanger answered that he had not, when in fact he had, that this was such a fraud as vitiated the sale, and that no title to his mare had passed, and therefore for his own protection he had best go and take the mare"—which he did, and the court sustained them in the position they took, and instructed the jury that the taking of the mare was not wrongful, and to acquit Hill, which they did.

"Silver Age," a full brother to "Dr. Haile," is making the season at the stable of L. G. Maltby in Washington.

It is stated by The Signal that Captain F. M. Brooks will return to Ashland and again have an interest in the Hotel Al-dine.

Greatest Offended Kentuckian.
"I have heard, Mr. Bluegrass," said a man who had traveled extensively, addressing a Kentuckian, "that you are going to move to Cincinnati."
"Yes, I am. What do you think of the change?"
"I think it is a bad one."
"Your objection, please?" asked the affable Kentuckian.
"You will find in Cincinnati," explained the man who knew, "but a moderate supply of water for washing purposes, and as for fresh hard water for drinking purposes, that's out of the question."

"Water for drinking purposes?" exclaimed the Kentuckian, scratching his head. Then, as if suddenly comprehending the remark, he turned red with anger at the supposed insult, and exclaimed:
"Do you think I drink water? Do you take me for a horse?"
And he stalked away like a man injured to the very core.

LEXINGTON capitalists and business men met Monday and began the organization of a company, with a capital stock of $50,000, to engage in some manufacturing enterprise. Another meeting to complete the organization will be held May 5th.
